Randolph School District 2016-17 Budget Process & Schedule

2016-2017 Program and Instruction Budget Detail

The program and instruction portion of the 2016 – 2017 budget focuses on Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) initiatives at all levels. In grades 6-12 we are excited to be fully implementing the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) which offer a framework for education in the sciences and engineering. The new standards encourage active engagement and the investigation of real world problems. The district will also be exploring the K-5 portion of these standards, scheduled to be implemented during the 2017 – 2018 school year, by piloting units aligned to the standards. Professional development has been and will continue to be provided to staff regarding the NGSSs as they transition to developing more problem and project based learning activities. Vertical articulation meetings will be scheduled to ensure smooth transitions and a better understanding of how students are exploring and learning about STEM at every level.

In addition to a focus on STEM, continued support for literacy in all instructional areas, an emphasis on data analysis, and sustaining a positive and safe learning environment will be the primary themes for professional development throughout the next school year.

Below provides a summary of specific curricula to be revised or rewritten this summer:

STEM

Mathematics

The district's K-12 mathematics curricula are aligned to the Common Core State Standards. At the elementary level we will review the scope and sequence of the topics taught at each grade level. At the middle school curricula will be revised to address pacing, projects, and assessments. At the high school level resources and extensive training to implement new math resources will be the focus throughout the 2016-2017 school year. An in-depth look at our math programs and instructional strategies will be facilitated by supervisors to ensure teachers have access to common vocabulary and expectations at all levels.

Science

In addition to implementing the NGSS in grade 6-12, the district is committed to expanding our STEM initiatives at all levels which will include, but not be limited to, an increased focus on computer programming K-12, a new Robotics II course for middle school students, and the addition of an AP Computer Science course at our high school.

Technology

The district continues to promote a BYOD approach with students and staff. Professional learning opportunities for staff at every level and coaching will be available throughout the 2016-2017 school year. The district has also begun to explore blending learning opportunities for students by making better use of Blackboard, our learning management system. The district is prepared for PARCC assessments and can simultaneously support more than three times the amount of students we have enrolled.

HUMANITIES

English Language Arts

Reading and writing in all content areas will remain a focus for students and staff throughout the 2016-2017 school year. Teachers will continue monitoring student growth in reading skills, teach multiple reading strategies, and appropriately challenge individuals with the complexity of the material they read. In grades K-8 the district uses the Reader's and Writer's Workshop model to facilitate whole group, small group, and one on one instruction. Minor revisions are planned for curricula in these area to incorporate interdisciplinary topics. Professional development opportunities for all staff in teaching reading and writing will continue as well as a focus on common and formative assessments.

Social Studies

Primary, middle, and high school curricula in this content area will be revised this summer with a focus on problem-based learning. Civics will continue to be embedded at all levels and at the middle school and high school levels we will continue supporting staff with professional learning focused on the implementation of the DBQ (Document-Based Question) Project. Further development of an interdisciplinary capstone project for students to demonstrate academic and intellectual experiences will provide additional opportunities for students experience authentic learning in middle school.

Life Careers

Randolph Township School District has been designing opportunities for students to authentically experience 21st Century career and life skills. Our BYOD initiative invites students and teachers K-12 to collaborate face-to-face and virtually to explore and solve problems. Another example would be our high school Option II program which affords students the opportunity to establish their own goals for a real world experience and exceed the minimums set forth by the standards. This program has expanded over the past four years to provide structured support for students who have an idea or passion outside of the traditional courses we offer. In the upcoming school year, we are excited about expanding our Makerspace initiative to allow students a space to create outside of the typical classroom setting.

Visual Performing Arts

The Randolph Township School District is committed to developing the whole child. Our visual and performing arts programs exemplify some of the opportunities our district provides to nurture student creativity and expression. Our elementary art and high school music and mass media curricula will be revised and we will be expanding our piano course offering. The numerous accolades and recognitions our students, staff, and programs receive accentuate the district's commitment to support visual and performing arts.

Health and Physical education

The district's comprehensive health and physical education programs are aligned to state and national standards. Revisions to our elementary and middle school physical education curricula will include revised units and new opportunities for students to learn about wellness. This will be our second year offering upper classmen at the high school a choice in the physical education courses they select. Providing options to our junior and seniors allows them to participate in wellness activities of that align with their interests. Students will also continue to enjoy participation in interscholastic sports and continue to exercise good sportsmanship.

World Languages

World language instruction begins in our elementary schools with a differentiated approach. Students use a web-based language immersion tool, RosettaStone, to learn Spanish. This tool encourages all learners to think and speak at their own pace. Our middle and high school curricula provide for a deeper study and choice of several languages. Language labs support both middle and high school language programs. The 2016-2017 budget supports the revision of our American Sign Language I course as well as the creation of an American Sign Language II as a result of the popularity of this new world language offering. The department will focus on a revision of World Language I, covering both French I and Spanish I at the high school and Spanish Culture & Language I and II for the middle school. Lastly, the middle school Spanish for Native/Heritage Speakers I & II needs will be updated to challenge our native speakers.
